Relationship between the UN Global Compact’s Human Rights principles and the Guiding Principles

HUMAN RIGHTS

Principle 1 Businesses should support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights; and

Principle 2 make sure that they are not complicit in human rights abuses.

LABOUR

Principle 3 Businesses should uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining;

Principle 4 the elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour;

Principle 5 the effective abolition of child labour; and

Principle 6 the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation.

ENVIRONMENT

Principle 7 Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;

Principle 8 undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and

Principle 9 encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

ANTI-CORRUPTION

Principle 10 Businesses should work against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery.

The same minimum requirement to RESPECT human rights as in the Guiding Principles

Voluntary opportunity to also SUPPORT human rights through:

- core business
- strategic social investment / philanthropy
- public policy advocacy
- partnerships / other forms of collective action

Business and the Human Rights to Water and Sanitation

Guidance for Companies on Respecting the Human Rights to Water and Sanitation: Bringing a Human Rights Lens to Corporate Water Stewardship

http://www.ceowatermandate.org/humanrights

PDF and online tool versions available
Background to the Project

- CEO Water Mandate Water and Human Rights workstream started in 2009
- Members saw need for greater attention after 2010 recognition of human rights to water and sanitation (HRWS) by states in the UN
- Issue discussed in mandate conferences between 2010-2011
- UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights unanimously endorsed by UN Human Rights Council in 2011
- Project launched in 2012
- Phase 1 Resulted in discussion paper Bringing a Human Rights Lens to Corporate Water Stewardship
Guidance Objectives and Audience

Objectives

- Help companies translate responsibility to respect the HRWS into existing water management policies, processes and company cultures
- Complement related efforts to clarify responsibilities of states and public/private water and sanitation service providers

Audience

- Staff with responsibility for water stewardship and for human rights
- Other stakeholders interested in supporting, incentivizing or requiring companies to respect the HRWS
Development of Guidance

- Mapping of UN Guiding Principles and corporate water stewardship management frameworks

- Confidential interviews with human rights and water leads from >20 companies in 8 sectors (food and beverage, extractives, ICT, agriculture, apparel, automotive, chemicals, consumer products)

- Draft version released for public comment in late 2014

- Multistakeholder Technical Expert Group provided critical input throughout

- Coordination with UN Special Rapporteur on the HRWS
Key Steps: Policy Commitment & Embed Respect

A. Develop a policy commitment
   1. Define the content of the commitment
   2. Engage internal colleagues
   3. Engage stakeholders
   4. Communicate the commitment

B. Embed Respect for the HRWS
   1. Establish appropriate accountability
   2. Build cross-functional coordination
   3. Set expectations for staff
   4. Apply the commitment to business relationships
Key Steps: Assess Impacts on the HRWS

A. Assess how the company may be involved in impacts
   1. Understand who may be impacted
   2. Review how the company may be involved
   3. Consider impacts arising through business relationships
   4. Engage with stakeholders in assessing impacts

B. Prioritize impacts for attention where necessary
   1. Evaluate the severity of impacts on affected stakeholders
   2. Evaluate the likelihood of impacts occurring
   3. Prioritize impacts

C. Build a Systematic Approach to Assessment
   1. Review and build on existing systems
   2. Pay particular attention to cumulative impacts
Key Steps: Integrate and Take Action

A. Identify options to prevent or mitigate potential impacts
   1. Understand the expectations of companies to respond to impacts
   2. Identify appropriate prevention and mitigation options

B. Build and Use Leverage in Business Relationships
   1. Evaluate possible sources of leverage in business relationships
   2. Focus on addressing supply chain impacts
   3. Focus on relationships with state authorities
Key Steps: Track and Communicate Performance

A. Build a Systematic Approach to Tracking
   1. Review existing tracking systems
   2. Track efforts through business relationships
   3. Develop appropriate indicators
   4. Engage affected stakeholders in tracking

B. Review and Improve Communication
   1. Improve communication with affected stakeholders
   2. Improve formal reporting on severe impacts on the HRWS
Key Steps: Remediation & Grievance Mechanisms

A. Establish Appropriate Processes to Provide Remedy
   1. Understand the responsibility to remediate negative impacts
   2. Map existing external grievance mechanisms and their effectiveness

B. Design Effective Operational-Level Grievance Mechanisms
   1. Understand what makes a grievance mechanism effective
   2. Review and build on existing internal mechanisms
   3. Define the scope of the mechanism

Challenges

- Water scarcity: 38% of our manufacturing facilities are situated in water-stressed regions.

- More interest in water: Increased level of public interest around water withdrawals for business and the impact on the human right to water and sanitation.

- Catchment-level collaboration: Improvements to a water catchment often need the collaboration of many stakeholders and local water users (including ourselves).
Next Step: Delivering on Our Commitments

Water

- Work to achieve water efficiency and sustainability across our operations
- Advocate for effective water policies and stewardship
- Treat the water we discharge effectively
- Engage with suppliers, especially those in agriculture
- Raise awareness on water conservation and improve access to water and sanitation across our value chain

Due diligence on human rights to water and sanitation

Our objective

By 2015 – Establish and implement detailed guidelines on human rights to water and sanitation due diligence.

Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) considerations are being integrated into the Water Resource Review process. The right to water and sanitation is also systematically included in our corporate Human Rights Impact Assessments.
