Diversity & Gender Equity as an Investment Opportunity: Progress and Impact of the Women's Empowerment Principles

18 June, 2013 – 11:00 AM EST
Technical Difficulties: If you have technical issues, please let us know by typing a message in the Questions pane (A). You can raise your hand (B) if we do not respond.

Q&A: We will be taking questions on content at the end, but you can send them to us throughout the webinar by using the Questions pane (A). Please specify to whom the question should be directed.

Example: Question for John Doe: What are the Guiding Principles?
Agenda

Introductions

Lauren Gula, Human Rights and Women’s Empowerment, UN Global Compact

The Women’s Empowerment Principles

Laraine Mills, Private Sector Partnerships Specialist, UN Women

The Business Case

Jennifer Kohler, Director and Consultant, Global Member Services, Catalyst

The Investor Perspective

Heather Smith, Lead Sustainability Research Analyst, Pax World Investments

Bennett Freeman, Senior Vice President Sustainability Research and Policy and Christine De Groot, Associate Sustainability Analyst, Calvert Investments

Discussion/ Q&A
Women’s Empowerment Principles

WEPs in Brief:

1. Establish high-level corporate leadership for gender equality.
2. Treat all women and men fairly at work – respect and support human rights and nondiscrimination.
3. Ensure the health, safety and well-being of all women and men workers.
4. Promote education, training and professional development for women.
5. Implement enterprise development, supply chain and marketing practices that empower women.
6. Promote equality through community initiatives and advocacy.
7. Measure and publicly report on progress to achieve gender equality.
To date, more than 590 CEOs representing 40 countries and range of sectors have signed the CEO Statement of Support of the WEPs
The WEPs as a Platform

CEOs Speak:

A CEO from the software and computer services industry states “The UN Women’s Empowerment Principles are a good guide for businesses, enabling more organizations to realise the benefits that women bring to the workplace.”

A CEO from a global consulting firm comments “The Principles are a reminder that levelling the playing field and advancing gender equity requires a pro-active and deliberate effort. Businesses that believe they are supporting women’s advancement should take a hard look at these Principles and challenge themselves to do more – it will benefit their companies, their employees, and their communities.”

“The WEPs provide a road-map to help any company realize the opportunity associated with fully empowering women through inclusion, non-discrimination, safety, education, and training--from the board room down through the supply chain” explains a CEO from a leading investment firm

The Principles

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th>1. Leadership Promotes Gender Equality</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>2. Equal Opportunity, Inclusion and Nondiscrimination</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>3. Health, Safety and Freedom from Violence</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>4. Education and Training</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>5. Enterprise Development, Supply Chain and Marketing Practices</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>6. Community Leadership and Engagement</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>7. Transparency, Measuring and Reporting</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Company Examples the WEPs Helped to Inspire

The Workplace

After signing the WEPs in 2010, a telecommunications company, realizing the benefits of investing in women, pledged to increase representation of women in management positions by 20% by 2012. At the end of 2012 23% of the leadership pipeline were female. The company has recommitted, setting new targets for 2014.

The Marketpace

Realizing the importance of investing in women for marketplace growth, a leading consulting firm and WEPs signatory, established a Retention and Advancement for Women Initiative. Now the initiative is acting as a global council and members are actively working to develop tools and programs to drive marketplace growth and create a culture where the best women and men choose to be.

The Community

A WEPs international oil and gas company integrated itself into the local communities in which it operates by establishing a comprehensive gender focused Community Development Program consisting of education and income generation. These gender empowerment initiatives provide handicraft projects and training to local women.
Measuring and Reporting

As a response to requests from WEPs signatories, the UN Women and UN Global Compact partnership produced a gender-specific guidance called The Women’s Empowerment Principles: Reporting on Progress.

Why report?
- Track progress against commitments
- Identify gaps in existing policies and procedures and develop a roadmap for action
- Identify high impact initiatives and practices for further replication
- Benchmark performance against competitors
- Demonstrate progress to key stakeholders – investors, NGOs, employees, labour unions, consumers and business partners among others – attract and maintain talent and gain public recognition

WEPs Principle 7: Measure and publicly report on progress to achieve gender equality
WEPs Around the World

On February 15, 2013 the Japanese UN Women Local Network Hosted a Symposium and Networking Event: Promoting Women’s Economic Participation

On March 8, 2013 the India Local Network co-hosted “Business Promotes Gender Equality”

The Turkish Local Network brought together business, government, civil society and other key stakeholders for the event “Empowering Women in the Workplace, Marketplace and Community: Selected Cases from the Gulf Countries, Turkey and Iraq” on May 10, 2013

On June 4, 2013 Switzerland hosted “Equality Means Business” which focused on the involvement of men in the implementation of the WEPs

The Local Network in Brazil collaborated with other key stakeholders and established a business group - Business Alliance for Strengthening the Role of Women in Society

On International Women’s Day-March 8, 2013 the India Local Network co-hosted “Business Promotes Gender Equality”

In New Zealand the WEPs were formally launched at the Government House by 8 leading executives further demonstrating the Governments commitment to advancing economic empowerment among women, specifically Pacific women.
The Business Case for Investing in Women

Jennifer Kohler, Director & Consultant
Global Member Services
Catalyst
June 18, 2013

© Catalyst 2013
About Catalyst

Our VISION
Changing workplaces.
Changing lives.

Our MISSION
Expanding opportunities for women and business

Our VALUES
Connect
Engage
Inspire
Impact

Catalyst is the leading nonprofit membership organization working globally with businesses and the professions to build inclusive workplaces and expand opportunities for women and business.

© Catalyst 2013
The Pyramid

Sources
Catalyst Research (2012).

© Catalyst 2013
By 2014, over 65% of new entrants to the workforce in the U.S will be women and people of color.

By 2009, women had greater levels of education than men in 87 countries, including Qatar, Malaysia, and the Philippines.

By 2014 women in the U.S. will earn:
- 60.0% of bachelor degrees; 60.3% of master degrees
- 54.2% of first professional degrees

The financial power of women as consumers globally is projected to reach $28 trillion by 2014.

© Catalyst 2013

Women Are Good for the Bottom Line

Organizations with the most gender diversity in their corporate officer ranks financially outperformed companies with the least gender diversity.

Average Return on Equity – Overall

- Top-Quartile Companies [have the most women]
  - n=88
  - Average Return on Equity: 17.7%

- Bottom-Quartile Companies [have the fewest women]
  - n=89
  - Average Return on Equity: 13.1%

35%

TRS – Overall

- Top-Quartile Companies [have the most women]
  - n=88
  - TRS: 127.7%

- Bottom-Quartile Companies [have the fewest women]
  - n=89
  - TRS: 95.3%

34%

Women Are Good for the Bottom Line

Organizations with the most gender diversity in their board of directors financially outperformed companies with the least.

Return on Equity

- Bottom Quartile: 9.1%
- Top Quartile: 13.9%

Return on Sales

- Bottom Quartile: 9.7%
- Top Quartile: 13.7%

Return on Invested Capital

- Bottom Quartile: 4.7%
- Top Quartile: 7.7%

+ 53%
+ 42%
+ 66%

The Business Case

Women leaders are role models for other women

- Women add independent thinking to decision-making to yield more innovative results

- An increase in women has been linked to a group’s effectiveness in solving difficult problems

- Gender-inclusive leadership is associated with increased corporate social responsibility

© Catalyst 2013

Sources: Catalyst, Why Diversity Matters, 2012.
Gender Diversity:
A win-win for everyone

BENEFITS TO EMPLOYEES AND TEAMS

- Greater career satisfaction and commitment
- Increased perceptions of fairness
- Better relationships with managers and colleagues

BENEFITS TO ORGANIZATIONS

- Reduced costs (e.g., absenteeism and turnover)
- Attracting top talent as an employer of choice
- Increased productivity, profitability, and engagement
- Tapping new markets and building customer loyalty

Sources: Catalyst, Why Diversity Matters, 2012.

© Catalyst 2013
Initiatives that leverage women

Company initiatives that embrace the importance of women in the marketplace:

- Campbell Soup Company
- Royal Bank of Canada (RBC)
- Standard Chartered

© Catalyst 2012
Investing with a Gender Lens

Pax World Investments
June 18th, 2013
Women’s Empowerment Principles Webinar

Investing involves risk, including potential loss of principal.
Copyright © 2013 Pax World Management LLC. All rights reserved.
Drivers to advance gender equality

There are many ways to promote gender equality and advance women. One lever that is not well understood nor sufficiently deployed is the power of investors to influence corporate and market behavior.

- Public Policy
- Education
- Investing
  - Financially reward leading companies
  - Influence corporate policies and behavior
- Corporate Action
- Individuals
- Charity/NGOs
- Women’s Organizations
A growing body of evidence: Gender equality is a smart investment strategy
“When women are at the table, good things happen: the discussion is richer, the decision-making process is better, management is more innovative and collaborative and the organization is stronger.”¹

Joe Keefe, President and CEO
Pax World Management LLC
Chairman of the Board
Women Thrive Worldwide

2012 Women’s eNews honoree
“21 Leaders for the 21st Century”

¹ Joseph F. Keefe, Gender Equality as an Investment Concept, April 15, 2011
Pax World’s Gender Lens

- Promotion of women to top executive positions and compensating them accordingly.
- Representation of women on the board of directors and in senior management.
- Strong support from senior executives for workplace equality.
- Career development, education and training programs for women employees.
- Hiring and promotion policies and activity to assure gender equity.
- Programs to address work/life balance concerns, including in particular women’s health, safety and childcare responsibilities.
- Programs to address discrimination against women and to protect women from harassment and violence.
- Use of women-owned companies as vendors and service providers.
- Positive images of women in their advertising, promotion and marketing.
- Accountability and transparency to employees, investors and the communities in which they operate.
Use your investment leverage.

At Pax World, we believe investors can use their investment power to promote gender equality and women’s empowerment. Be an engaged stakeholder:

- Promote board diversity
  - Saying “No” to all-male boards
  - 30% Coalition
  - Shareholder resolutions

- Engaging with companies on gender diversity issues
  - Invest in companies that endorse or aspire to practices embodied in the Women’s Empowerment Principles
DIVERSITY AND GENDER AS AN INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

BENNETT FREEMAN, SVP SUSTAINABILITY RESEARCH & POLICY
CHRISTINE DE GROOT, ASSOCIATE SUSTAINABILITY ANALYST
CALVERT INVESTMENTS
JUNE 17, 2013
In 2004, in partnership with the United National Development Fund for Women (UNIFEM), Calvert launched the Calvert Women’s Principles®: the First Global Code of Corporate Conduct focused exclusively on empowering, advancing, and investing in women worldwide.
CALVERT WOMEN’S PRINCIPLES IN ACTION

GENDER EQUALITY PRINCIPLES

UN WOMEN’S EMPOWERMENT PRINCIPLES
Examining the state of gender equity in Corporate America

- Examining the Cracks in the Ceiling: A Survey of Corporate Diversity Practices of the S&P 100
- Three editions in last five years to evaluate progress and benchmark companies according to inclusion and promotion strategy
- Evidence that women remain underrepresented in upper management and governance levels
- Corporate support of the Women’s Empowerment Principles can help mend the pipeline to senior leadership
ENGAGING COMPANIES ON GENDER EQUITY
How Calvert uses its shareholder voice to advocate for women

- Encouraging broader implementation of the Women’s Empowerment Principles
  - Six companies in the S&P 100 endorse the Women’s Empowerment Principles globally to govern gender equity from the factory floor to the boardroom

- Corporate engagements highlighting the critical role of women consumers, employees, and board members for long-term performance and success

- Coalitions with like-minded investors to engage companies on gender equity
Thank you for joining us today.

Presentation slides and a recording of the webinar will be available on the WEPs website:
www.WEPrinciples.org

If you have any additional questions, please contact:
Lauren Gula: gulal@unglobalcompact.org